Appeal slated; won't leave council

Long prison terms for 3 former police

Madison Third Ward Alderman Ronald Grzywacz, 42, told the Press-Record this morning he does not plan to resign from the city council until all possible appeals of his racketeering and perjury sentence have been exhausted.

Grzywacz and two others who formerly served on the Madison Police Department with him, were sentenced Friday afternoon in U.S. District Court at Alton to serve lengthy prison terms which District Judge J. Waldo Ackerman said were intended to "act as a deterrent to others."

Ackerman sentenced Grzywacz to serve 12 years in prison for racketeering and five years for perjury, to run concurrently.

Suspended police Sgt. Richard Krieschok, 30, and former officer Edward Goclan, 36, were each sentenced to serve seven years in prison for racketeering and a concurrent five years for perjury. Ackerman said Grzywacz' sentence was longer because he seemed to be "more involved."

The three were convicted July 5 by a federal jury in Alton of charges that they accepted bribes and favors from tavern owners in Madison in return for allowing prostitution and late closing hours.

They also were found guilty of lying to a federal grand jury investigating the corruption allegations.

Newsmakers Democrats 3, GOP 1 on this fall's ballot

Under normal circumstances, Illinois' unique cumulative voting system might make an incumbent Republican state representative a shoo-in for reelection here. But this isn't a normal year.

Rep. Everett G. Steele may win, through overcoming the odds, but he'll have to fight hard to achieve a third two-year term at Springfield.

With three Illinois House seats to be decided in the 56th Legislative District, three Democrats and a single Republican—Steele—are on the Nov. 7 ballot. And, to slightly paraphrase a former president, "The Lord must have loved Democrats, because he made so many of them (in Madison County)."

Raw figures based on past general election turnouts indicate that victories could be attained by Democrat Jim McPike of Alton, Democrat Sam Wolf of Granite City and former Democrat Joe E. Lucio of Edwardsville. But Steele hopes to show that the past projections won't prevail.

Lucio lost out in the March primary by a

Role of SIUE to change?

(Editorial on Page 20)

A negative groundswell appears to be developing here to last week's disclosure that the Southern Illinois University trustee board is inviting public discussions on SIU system structure and governance.

The board is considering a single system chief executive, responsible to the board. Heads of the local and Carbondale campuses would report to the "super chief."

Trustees will set aside time during their Oct. 17 meeting at SIUE and their Nov. 9 meeting at SIUC to hear "opinions, factual analyses and reasoned arguments." They are particularly interested in the views of the board, the two universities and "the region."

For a group or individual to be heard this month, a written application addressed to the General Secretary of the Southern Illinois University System must be received in the board office at Carbondale no later than 9:30 a.m. next Tuesday, Oct. 16.

Inquiries and requests to be heard are being addressed to: Office of the Board of Trustees, Southern Illinois University, Small Group Housing No. 111, Carbondale, Ill. 62901 (telephone 536-3331).

SIUE President Kenneth Shaw has voiced doubts about possible loss of decentralization and diversity in the operation of the two universities, if the system is revised.

The SIUE University Senate voted Thursday to oppose the plan as diluting "existing academic, administrative and fiscal autonomy."

SIU Board Chairman Harris Rowe said Friday, "It's too premature to conclude that there might be any changes. I'm keeping an open mind on the idea of a single chief executive."

First UW report

The initial report meeting of the Tri-Cities Area United Way fall 1978 campaign is set for 11:30 a.m. Wednesday at Charlie's Restaurant, where a "Dutch treat" luncheon will be served and drive progress will be reported.

William P. Donovan, American Steel Foundries works manager, is chairman of the drive for $548,000 plus. Projected agency needs exceed $200,000. Donovan has said in urging fair-share giving by all residents, workers, businesses and organizations.

Evidence is presented against man who allegedly victimized 5 women

Kenneth Chalmers Spiroff, 40, of 1437a Second St., Madison, appeared before Associate Judge P. J. O'Neill for a preliminary hearing Thursday afternoon on 19 charges in five sexual assault cases occurring in Madison County between Aug. 8 and Sept. 13. He was bound over for trial on all counts.

Officers testified that Spiroff signed statements admitting to having been involved in the five cases, and they said he pointed out four homes where occupants were raped.

Alton detective Michael Rynders read a statement Spiroff allegedly signed in which Spiroff said he went to the Catholic Children's Home in Alton, where he was raised. He saw a girl on the third floor. "Something came over me and I had to take her with me," Rynders read from the suspect's statement.

The detective said the statement Spiroff gave related that he took the 15-year-old girl to his car, bound and gagged her, put a stocking hat over her head, held a sharp object to her throat and drove her from Alton to the Granite City-Madison area and to his apartment.

There, he allegedly raped her, forced her into deviate sex acts and used an instant camera to take photos of them, according to the statement the detective read.

Under questioning by Assistant Madison County State's Attorney Joseph Brown, Rynders said the girl reported the man told her he would take her home if she committed one more act, and she did. He then took her back to Alton and ordered her to climb in a window. She reported the incident to a nun, who alerted police.

Public Defender J. William Lucio cross-examined Rynders and asked if the victim had seen the man's face.

Rynders said she told him the man raised the ski mask to his forehead during the sex acts and was not wearing it when he let her out of the car in Alton. But Rynders was not sure exactly when the man had removed the mask.

Rynders testified that photos of the victim with the man, as well as a case containing numerous other photos, were found in Spiroff's apartment when police executed a search warrant there. An instant camera also was found, later testimony showed.

Madison Police Detective Paul Bargiello testified that he had investigated the Aug. 12 rape and assault of a 35-year-old Ken-

Street woman, who was awakened by a man wearing a ski mask. He held a knife to her throat and promised not to hurt her, if she remained quiet, the testimony related.

Maer anchorman, covering Carter

PETER MAER addressing broadcasting students here.

By BARB SLIVKA
Students in Jack Shaheen's Seminar in Broadcast Management at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville had the benefit last week of Washington correspondent and newscaster Peter Maer's radio experience first-hand.

The SIUE graduate and Granite City native complimented SIUE's Mass Communications Program. "I think the school is pretty well known in media circles" because of its close ties to the St. Louis broadcast media, he said.

Maer began his career in broadcasting at the age of 15 at WGN in Granite City. The 30-year-old journalist is currently anchorman for the Mutual Broadcasting System's 10-minute evening newscast, "The World Today."

Maer spoke about relevant issues in the area of reporting radio news and managing newscasters. He answered questions from students about the "newsmen's privilege," censorship, the strength of radio news, and public criticism of reporting.

He said, "A dangerous situation exists in terms of censorship," and added, "we should all be more aware and the public should be more aware of federal regulations."

Continuing, Maer said, "The people who turn the radios on are the ones who listen for biased reporting. You can't improve news unless the management wants to build it." He thinks there is a "tremendous amount of cynicism among reporters today."

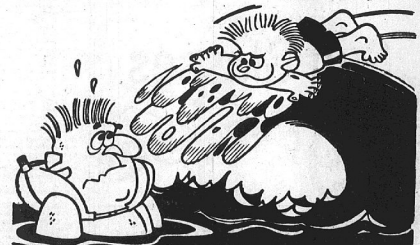

Maer offered advice to students interested in reporting, saying, "Hook

Police probe rape case

Granite City police authorities were to confer today with the Madison County state's attorney's office to determine what charges may be filed against a 27-year-old man who is held as a suspect in the reported rape of a young woman Thursday.

Authorities said the victim had spoken with police and has indicated she will not prosecute, although she is reported to have told her mother and a girl friend that she was raped twice by the man in his car while parked on a street that ended in a field, and that at one point he threatened her with a gun. She refused to tell her age.

The young woman's mother told officers the girl has been under a physician's care and had been near a nervous breakdown.

Police said they received a report at 10:50 a.m. Thursday from a girl friend of the victim who told them she and the victim had been to a lounge near Cahokia where they met the man who was known as "Bob."

When they were ready to leave, the victim's girl friend told officers the man offered to take them home and they accepted the ride. When they arrived in Granite City, the man stopped the car and tried to talk the victim into going with him to get a drink. She refused.

The girl friend said she got out of the car and the victim started to get out, but the man held on to her purse. He then drove away with the young woman in the car.

Two hours later, at 12:55 p.m., the victim's mother called police and said the man had brought the girl home. Police said they were unsuccessful in getting her story. The girl was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was treated.

Her mother, however, told officers that her daughter had told her the man had driven her to a dead-end street where he attempted to force her to perform a deviate sex act. She quoted the girl as saying that she refused.

The girl related that the man then "put his gun away" and raped her twice.

The victim's girl friend told authorities that while she and the victim were in the nightclub near Cahokia, and had accepted the man's offer to drive them home, he had remarked "Shall I bring my gun along?"

She also told officers that the man told them that he had been released recently from prison in Indiana "near Jacobsville."

Said police they checked this angle and found that a federal penitentiary is located at Terre Haute and that a nearby community is Jansville. The girl friend also told police that the man said on several occasions that he "hated cops," the girl friend also provided a description of the man's car.

At 10 a.m. Friday police located a car fitting the description parked in a driveway in North Granite City. Police staked out the location and Detective Don Knight was called to the scene. He arrested a man who was taken to police headquarters and charged with battery. The suspect was transferred to the Madison County Jail Saturday, pending further investigation in the case.

GC woman, child escape abductor

A 23-year-old Granite City mother and her 3-year-old daughter were abducted Friday night by a man who offered them a ride from the home of a friend, but drove them instead to an area in Belleville where the woman and child escaped by jumping from the car.

The woman told police that she made several attempts to get out of the car when the man grabbed at traffic lights or stop signs, but that he always stopped the child's arm to prevent her from taking the child with her.

Granite City police reported they became aware of the abduction at 1:30 a.m. Saturday when they received a telephone call from a St. Clair County sheriff's deputy who said he had picked up the woman and child in the 1800 block of Lebanon Road, Belleville, where the woman had gone to call authorities after she and the child escaped from the car.

Police met Sheriff's Deputy Jeff Winter at the Skelly Truck Station on Route 203 south of Madison and took the woman and child to the police station here. The woman later went to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of abrasions she suffered in leaping from the car.

The victim told officers that she and her daughter visited a woman friend Friday night in the 2200 block of Washington Ave. She said a man was with her friend, and that they became involved in an argument. She said she decided to leave, but the man told her he also was leaving and he would drive her home.

She and her daughter got into his car, but after driving a while she pointed out a house that was not the way to her house. She said he told her he was lost. Authorities quoted her as saying that she was not molested physically by the man, but that while driving he kept suggesting sex in his conversation.

After several unsuccessful efforts to get out of the car, she got an opportunity at Lebanon Road and told Collinsville Road in Belleville. She said she opened the door and grabbed the baby and they fell into a ditch. The man kept driving.

The victim said she and her daughter went to a nearby house on Lebanon road and called authorities.

Sheriff's Deputy Winter told police his office received the call from the woman at 11:59 p.m. Friday. He picked her up and after hearing her story notified Granite City police.

Granite City police are investigating in an effort to identify the man.

Base of operations for this testing will be the Granite City Army Installation ramp — assembling a 120-foot ribbon bridge raft, loading a class-60 vehicle on the raft, moving to the Mosenhien Chute area for rafting operations, and returning to the GCAI ramp for retrieval.

Testing will take place in and around the Mosenhien Chute area between Mississippi River miles 184 and 185. All efforts possible will be made not to interfere with river traffic in the main channel, and safety boats will be operating with raft missions to assist should the test boats lose power or have other difficulties.

Radio communication (channel 16 and 22 VHF-FM) will be in use during the test to insure proper communication between test boats, river traffic, and the Coast Guard.

All vessel operators are being advised to keep clear of the Mosenhien Chute area during this test period, since the maneuverability of the test boats will not be known until conclusion of the tests, and this could prove hazardous to anyone in the area. James A. Peterson, chief, Operations Division, St. Louis District, Army Corps of Engineers, is advising all navigation interests of the scheduled raft tests.

Mitchell fire fighters plan open house

The Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department will hold an open house Saturday during which various pieces of fire-fighting and rescue equipment will be on display and demonstrated.

The open house will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the fire house on East Chain of Rocks Road in Mitchell. Among the equipment to be demonstrated will be the inflatable lifting pads which are capable of lifting 40 tons each.

The department's new rescue truck also will be on display. "We hope to have a big turnout as a show of support for our firemen who risk their lives, in all kinds of weather, fighting fires throughout this area," a spokesman said.

The open house will precede Fire Prevention Week, which is Oct. 8 to 14.

MORY CANDIDATE

TO BE CO-PASTOR

James T. Mory will present a trial sermon at 10:30 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 15, at St. John United Church of Christ, Granite City, to be followed by a congregational vote on whether to choose him as a co-pastor.

Interim-pastor of the church in the first half of 1978, the Monmouth College and Eden Seminary graduate will participate in an ordination service Dec. 3.

shall margin and decided to run this fall as an independent candidate. He pledges to return to the Democratic fold if elected, and to help Democrats seek majority control when the next legislature convenes.

Steele, McPike and Lucco presently serve in the Illinois House of Representatives, and Wolf is a former state representative who succeeded in nudging out Lucco in the 1978 primary.

Most political observers see two of the poets going this fall to McPike, who led the ticket in March, and Wolf.

All four candidates are "running scared" considered to be the best strategy regardless of how close or lopsided a campaign might appear. All are knocking on doors and going to a wide variety of public gatherings to shake hands and discuss governmental issues.

Democrats are formally backing McPike and Wolf, and Republicans favor Steele. But all four candidates are likely to receive considerable "single shot" (three-vote) support rather than dual backing (a vote and a half for each of two persons) or three-way approval (one vote for three of the four contenders).

If it proves to be true that McPike and Wolf gain election, the third spot could be "up for grabs" between Steele and Lucco, ending in another close decision.

Venice teachers rehired

The Venice Board of Education, meeting Thursday, rehired teachers and aides connected with Title VII programs in the school district, which were refunded for the current school year through at $230,862 grant.

Three Title VII teachers, who have been working at Venice Lincoln Technical Center, due to curtailment of the Title VII classes, have elected to remain at the adult vocational school rather than return to the public schools, Supt. of Schools Robert N. Vickers said.

Two sixth and seventh grade teachers will return to the Title VII program that primarily involves remedial reading and mathematics classes, with new faculty members to be hired as replacements.

The resignation of Phillip Daniels, high school social studies teacher, accepted by the board Thursday night, effective Oct. 15, also will necessitate the hiring of a replacement as no one on the current staff is qualified for the social studies teaching assignment, Vickers said.

In other business, the board's attention was occupied for a lengthy discussion with a group of parents whose children attend the district's Handicapped classes in the Venice District.

Charles R. Dixon Jr., assistant works manager at the plant, will succeed him as works manager.

The promotions were effective Oct. 1, James L. Green, ASF president, said.

Bell will be responsible for ASF's Alliance and Granite City plants. He will continue to live in Alliance and will report to C. W. McCullough, ASF vice president-manufacturing.

The Alliance works manufactures components for railroad freight cars, including side frames, bolsters, couplers, yokes and knuckles.

Bell joined ASF in 1960 as an accounting trainee. He was made assistant controller at the Alliance plant in 1963 and became controller in 1964.

In 1968, he was made assistant treasurer of ASF in the Chicago headquarters and in 1974 was made Alliance works manager.

He has a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Cincinnati.

City, Steele has lived in the Glen Carbon-Edwardsville area for the past 14 years and also has many friends in Alton. He's need strong support in all three areas, he believes.

A realtor and insurance agent who has been devoting full time to legislative duties, Steele can cite his relative youth — late 40s — and his growing General Assembly experience and seniority.

He has served on the Appropriations and Transportation committees and the Legislative Council, and has achieved extensive legislative and gubernatorial approval for his proposals.

Rep. Steele also stresses service to constituents and maintains close contact with them through established 56th District offices, a mobile office and newsletters.

One of his bills that became law is generating millions of dollars in added revenue for Illinois roads. It requires out-of-state trucks to purchase fuel in Illinois and thus pay fuel taxes while they help wear out the highway pavements.

Other Steele-sponsored laws include one that requires prior utility notice to health officials before wintertime fuel disconnections. Another protects persons against telephone harassment.

Steele and his wife, Josephine, have sons, Bryan, 16, and Randy, 14.

River tug destroyed by fire

Fire that started in the left engine of a river tug pushing six barges loaded with grain raged for hours Saturday evening in the Chain of Rocks canal channel about one and a half mile north of the Granite City locks.

Firemen from Venice, Madison and the Long Lake department battled the blaze with hoses stretched on fire department boats and later on other tug units.

The tug, Cecil Deal, was destroyed. No estimate of damage was available.

Venice and Long Lake Firemen were on the scene seven hours, beginning at 5:15 p.m. when the first call was received at Venice. Madison firemen remained on the scene until 10:30 p.m.

The barges did not catch fire. There were no injuries.

The spectacular blaze attracted a crowd of sightseers.

Woman raped in Venice

A St. Louis woman told Venice police Friday night that she had been abducted from her home in St. Louis by a Venice man, with the aid of two women, and taken to the man's apartment on Weaver Street where she was raped.

The victim, 22, told authorities that after the attack the man forced her to smoke angel dust. He "passed out," she told officers, and she took a taxi back to her St. Louis home.

The man was there when she arrived, she said, but St. Louis police arrived a few minutes later and took both of them to headquarters.

The man was held but the woman was returned to Brooklyn where Police Chief Ray Douglas was asked to help her locate the apartment where she allegedly was attacked.

Douglas reported to Venice police at 9:45 p.m. Friday that the man was still in St. Louis.

Grzywacz said this morning, "My attorney feels confident the Appellate Court will find in my favor and I will resign as alderman until all appeals are exhausted."

Norman London, his attorney, told Grzywacz it will take eight months to a year to obtain an Appellate Court ruling in the Seventh U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago, the alderman learned.

If that appeal fails, the conviction and sentence will be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court, Grzywacz said.

He said he has heard of maneuvers by Mayor Mike Sasyk and the city administration to attempt to remove him from office, but said he does not feel they legally can force him out.

Sasyk told the Press-Record he plans to meet with City Attorney Casper Nighswander to obtain a writ of certiorari on Grzywacz's rights to remain an alderman.

During their appeals, Grzywacz, Goclan and Kriehack will remain free on $20,000 recognizance bonds, which were furnished by Ackerman.

During Friday's sentencing, Judge Ackerman said that when he was Sangamon County's state's attorney, he worked closely with police officers and said he is sympathetic with their problems. "And yet, police officers do have to do right and set examples."

Ackerman rejected a recommendation from U.S. Attorney Gerald Fines that the three be sentenced to 20 years in prison each — 15 years for racketeering and a consecutive five years for perjury.

Defense attorneys argued for lighter sentences, contending the three were being burdened "with the sins of Madison County," in London's words.

London said the "evils" were widespread in the county and in Madison. "It is obvious that evils have been going on in Madison (since) before the officer was on the police department."

He also cited the refusal of Madison County Sheriff John Maeras to testify at the trial as one factor which should be considered in determining the guilt of Grzywacz.

Maeras and his chief of field operations, John Cooper, announced during the trial that they would invoke their Fifth Amendment rights against possible self-incrimination if they were called by either the prosecution or the defense to testify.

Fines has admitted the federal probe into alleged corruption in Madison County is continuing and sources indicated future considerations by a federal grand jury are likely.

A new federal grand jury is to be empaneled in Springfield Wednesday, but Fines is declining to say what matters he will present to that jury. Grand jury proceedings are secret, by law.

Car hits billboard

James R. Jones, 20, of 2330 Benton St., was injured when his northbound auto left Missouri Avenue at the bend south of the city humane shelter and struck the support columns of an advertising billboard at 8:30 p.m. Sunday.

Jones said he believes he lost consciousness before the accident, due to an illness. The impact broke the columns of the billboard three feet above the ground.

The driver was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted with a fractured nose and pain in his neck and left knee.

Several sheriff's deputies were named in the trial and in court documents as having allegedly received cash and favors from county tavern owners and tow truck operators.

Madison County Board Member Daniel Partney of Granite City has been attempting to force a county investigation into allegations against sheriff's deputies, but his efforts have been blocked until an opinion is rendered by the Illinois Attorney General's Office whether a county board has the authority to direct the Sheriff's Merit Commission and the county state's attorney to initiate such a probe.

Partney said he is hopeful that opinion can be received before this month's board meeting, slated for Oct. 16. Delay of that opinion will postpone any action by the board until after the Nov. 7 general election, at which a new sheriff is to be elected. Maeras did not seek re-election.

Grzywacz contended when he appeared before the federal grand jury that he was picking up payoffs at county taverns as part of an ongoing investigation he was conducting for Maeras and he alleged envelopes he picked up were delivered to Maeras.

Supplemental security can make a difference

Supplemental security income (SSI) payments can make a big difference in the quality of life for people 65 or over, or disabled, or blind who have limited income and do not own much property, John Nathan, Social Security district manager here, said today.

The SSI program now makes monthly payments to 4,250,000 people. The maximum monthly federal payment is $189.40 for an individual and $284.10 for an eligible couple.

Some people get less because they have other sources of income, while others get more because they live in a state which adds to the federal payment.

People do not have to be entirely without funds to qualify for SSI payments. The first $20 of monthly unearned income generally does not count. If they work, the first $65 of earned income does not count, and only half of the rest does, Nathan said.

People can have resources — things they own — valued up to $1,500 for an individual, or $2,250 for a couple, and still get SSI payments.

Not everything counts as a resource. A home does not count, and a car may not — depending on its value. What does count are things that can be turned into cash, such as stocks, bonds, savings accounts, jewelry and items of this nature.

It does not matter how old or young a disabled or blind person is to qualify for SSI payments. Even children can get payments, although their parents' income and resources will be considered when deciding their eligibility.

More detailed information about SSI eligibility requirements can be obtained at the East St. Louis Social Security office, located at 650 Missouri Ave. The telephone number is 274-4100.

There are many free leaflets available describing the SSI program at the office.

Q. I think my grandfather may be eligible for SSI payments. He has very little income, but he does own some valuable items. Are all assets counted for SSI purposes?

A. An individual may have resources (assets) of up to $1,500 and be eligible for SSI payments.

The following resources are not counted: a home the person lives in and the land adjacent to it, regardless of value; personal effects or household goods of reasonable value; and life insurance policies with a total face value of $1,500 or less per person.

Under certain conditions, a car also is not counted. For more information, call and Social Security office.

Q. My wife is going to have an operation and will be in the hospital for at least a month. Medicaid will pay for most of her care. How will this affect our SSI payments?

A. If an eligible person or car also is in a hospital or health facility for an entire month, and Medicaid is paying over half the cost of the care, the basic SSI payment amount is reduced.

However, when only one member of an eligible couple is in a health facility, the income of each member is considered separately in determining the amount of SSI payment.

Q. I was 65 several months ago. I've been meaning to apply for SSI payments, but never got around to it.

When I do apply, can I get payments back to the month I was 65?

A. No. SSI payments can be made for months before an application is filed.

If you think you are eligible for SSI, you should apply as soon as possible at any Social Security office.

Q. My mother got a notice telling her that her SSI payments are going to stop because she's no longer eligible for them. I disagree. What can she do about this?

A. Any SSI beneficiary who is dissatisfied with a decision about his or her payments has the right to ask for a reconsideration. The request for reconsideration must be made within 60 days from the date he or she receives the notice of the decision. The people in any Social Security office can explain how to request a reconsideration.

EPA OKs sewer line

A permit has been issued by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency for revision of the sanitary sewer line that presently carries sewage of the Archer Daniels Midland plant on Carlgill Road to the Lockhaven pumping station.

Granite City Council members were informed last week.

Under new plans for the sewer line, the pumping station will be bypassed and the flow from ADM will be diverted into a manhole near Mockingbird Lane in the new Town and Country subdivision, according to Monroe Brewer, city engineer.

The work will be financed by the company in an effort to solve a longstanding problem of disposing of sewage from the ADM plant. Because of the heavy consistency of effluent from the plant, the pumps at the lift station frequently have been fouled, causing sewage backups into homes in the Steelcrest subdivision that are tapped into the same sewer line.

ADM previously rebuilt the line and financed replacement of the pumping facilities in an effort to solve the problem.

Brewer explained that under the new plan the sewage will flow into the Mockingbird Lane manhole, then go to the pumping station on O'Hare Avenue. It is expected the effluent will become more diluted in its longer course through the sewer main and therefore present no problems at the more distant pumping station.

All of the cost is being financed by the company, Brewer noted.

Council members last week also approved an ordinance establishing a no parking zone from the southwest corner of Iowa and 22nd streets for 25 feet in a southeasterly direction, and approved an ordinance limiting parking to two hours on the southeast side of Iowa Street from 2200 to 2216, inclusive.

The limited parking will be effective from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. daily except Saturday and Sunday.

A resolution appropriating $2,000 in motor fuel tax funds for construction of 187 feet of guard rail along Maryville Road between Victory Drive and Terminal also was approved.

The alderman also approved a request by Gilbert Walmsley, principal of North High School, for permission to conduct a student parade Oct. 20 in connection with the school's homecoming program.

The parade will be conducted from 1:45 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., leaving the school and proceeding down Maryville Road to Pontoon Road, on Pontoon to Johnson, on Johnson to Wabash and back to Pontoon Road, and Maryville Road to the school.

Alderman Paul R. Bowler of the Seventh Ward referred to the Pollution Plant Committee, headed by Alderman Glen Sprankle, a suggestion that the committee look into reports that there is a market for sewage sludge.

Bowler said he had talked with a man at the Illinois Municipal League convention in Chicago who told him that sludge has a market value. Sludge from the city's sewage treatment plant now is hauled by trucks for disposal in a landfill.

Bowler also asked that Lionel Portell, city street superintendent, be instructed to prepare an inventory of tools, automotive equipment, materials and supplies to determine what purchases must be made for the street department.

Lion Candy Day committees set

Presidents of the Quad-City Lions Clubs, Granite City, Madison and Pontoon Beach, have named their Candy Day committees for the 1978 Illinois Lions Candy Day campaign for deaf and blind services.

The event will be held Friday and Saturday, Oct. 13 and 14.

Granite City Lions Club president Jim Miller Jr. has appointed Herman Schroeder as chairman with committee members Roger Francke, Ted Barr and Richard Foy.

Madison Lions Club President Tony Anselmo has appointed Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk as chairman and Secretary Rich Bright as co-chairman with Lions Al Hudzik, Don Bridick and Jim Perdue as committee members.

Pontoon Beach Lions Club President Larry J. McKee announced that Lion Joe Wallace will serve as chairman with Vince Thorpe, Chester Dean and Chris Leonard as committee members.

The Quad-City Lions Clubs will join the 655 Lions Clubs throughout the state to attempt to raise $1,000,000 on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 13 and 14 for the 26th annual Illinois Lions Clubs Candy Days for humanitarian services.

Donald D. Patrick, zone chairman, said that the local area goal is $4,500. "We've expanded Candy Day this year," Patrick said. "We will continue to help the blind with the money that we raise, but we also will help the deaf and hearing impaired as well. We are really grateful for all of the community support that we have had in the past, and we look forward to Candy Day."

Among groups to benefit from Candy Day are: Leader Dog for the Blind, Lions of Illinois Mobile Glaucoma Screening Unit, Hadley School for the Blind, Dialogue with the Blind, Camp Lions for the handicapped children and other individual and community services.

'Personalized' university, cost effectiveness sought

Aggressive new steps to recruit and retain students, an improved governance system, and specific ways to deal with the "taxpayers' revolt" were outlined Thursday afternoon by Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, in his annual address to the university community.

Those attending the event in the Communications Building theater were given a summary of the institution's goals for the coming year. This followed by one week a campus-wide distribution of the president's annual report to the Board of Trustees, reviewing accomplishments of the past year.

Acting on the positive aspects of a "medium" size institution such as SIUE, the president urged faculty and staff to further "personalize" their relationships with students and each other.

"We are small enough to care and to change that which needs changing; yet, we are large enough to have the diversity that makes being here exciting," the president said. "I ask that each of you help also by assisting us in examining policies and practices which in your opinion need changing, or in asking for clarification of existing policies and practices."

The president said his emphasis on the "personal touch" relates to what he considers the university's most urgent concern: retention of students currently enrolled. He explained that past experience indicates approximately 45 to 50 percent of each freshman class is lost to the university within two years.

"By any standards, that is an intolerable attrition rate," Dr. Shaw declared. "While many of this number might legitimately be termed 'drop-outs' and will indeed return to SIUE or some other form of higher education at a later date, many are persons who will leave because of academic concerns, financial problems, or work conflicts, of the commonly recognized reasons."

"A 50 percent gain in retention promises far greater yield than all of our recruitment efforts. In just two years, we would have approximately 600 additional students."

Dr. Shaw announced that the university's retention effort is being aided by the creation of the Academic Resource Center, which provides advisement and instructional support for students.

While stressing many new initiatives in the area of recruiting, including the Presidential Scholars Program, plans for a mail registration system, increasing emphasis on continuing education, and various efforts to reach greater numbers of prospective students, the president reminded his audience of Census Bureau estimates which predict a 19 percent decline in the number of 18-year-olds from 1980 to 1990.

He pointed out that the university's Resource Allocation and Management Plan projects a 12 percent decrease in enrollment in the next 10 years. "From a body count standpoint, growth, then, is not our prime worry," Dr. Shaw said. But the president added he is concerned about "enrollment stability" and "doing our very best with the students we have."

He announced he has asked the vice-president for student affairs and vice-president and provost to establish a small working group to investigate and suggest ways to personalize the admissions and advisement program and relationships with students after they arrive on campus.

The president acknowledged that many students leave the university because they are not able to do college work. The Academic Resource Center will attack this problem by helping students attain the basic attributes they should have received in their preparatory experience.

The retention effort is part of an examination of the university's overall general education program — aimed at improving academic standards while offering each student the opportunity for academic success. The president said he also is aware of a need to help the larger society with its literacy problem. To address this need, he has asked the vice-president and provost, with appropriate faculty, to consider the development of "communications packages."

The packages will be presented to interested firms and also will be used to determine how the university's teacher education program can better relate to public school needs in the area. On the subject of governance, President Shaw said it is his hope that the Faculty Senate can be strengthened this year. "A good governance system insures that the three fundamental intramural constituencies — student, faculty and staff — have an opportunity to share in governance where an all-university perspective is needed," he said. "Currently, our greatest need for change, in my opinion, is that of developing a clear and strong voice for the Faculty Senate."

The president said the question is sometimes raised, "Do we need an overhaul of our system or an entirely new one?" Responding, he said, "Given our progress to date, I am confident that finely-tuned changes, far short of gutting the present system and starting over, can get us where we want to be."

Dr. Shaw predicted higher education will "feel the clearest impact" of the "taxpayers' revolt" sweeping the country. He said the university should respond by "doing the best job we can and forcefully communicating our mission and needs."

"We need to let the taxpayers know who we are and what we are about. Realistically, we must be willing to better use the resources available to us."

"To make more people aware of what we have to contribute, we can increase our community service initiatives. By applying our academic expertise to public problems, we can greatly improve acceptance of our mission."

"The efforts in community education and in Area Development, activities of the Rape and Sexual Abuse Program, our thrusts in continuing education, and the volunteer time that faculty and staff give to their communities all help to better serve this region."

"As a matter of professional pride, we need to do everything possible to solve internal problems internally. There is no greater threat to academic freedom than our own unwillingness to preserve it."

Citing some of the efforts directed at making more productive use of available dollars, the university president pointed to improved policies for international students, needs assessments of students, an improved affirmative action plan and implementation of the plan.

Also, improved efficiency in the School of Dental Medicine, where there has been a 10 percent increase in the number of students with no additional resources, approved SIUE School working papers, and an audit of the university's food service effort.

Dr. Shaw urged further efforts to emphasize quality.

"Our efforts in the Presidential Scholars Program, the formation of the new honorary fraternity Phi Kappa Phi, and our honors program serve this end," he said. "But our honors program should be appreciably expanded from its present 394 students to 500 or 600 at a minimum."

The president added, "Also, our academic standards must communicate that we expect our graduates to compete anywhere — that a graduate of this institution has a quality degree."

In conclusion, the president said, "We can deal with taxpayers' revolt by forcefully communicating the role of higher education in a maturing democracy — and in clearly articulating the resources required to maintain and-or expand our role in society."

"We will need to continue to speak up for our needs and be unafraid to explain them even in the face of diminishing public support for new initiatives."

"To not inform the public of the negative societal consequences of increased tuition, low salaries, inadequate funds for library supplies, scientific equipment — in short, for all the resources that excellence honestly demands — is to do them and us a great disservice. We must continue to speak forcefully and rationally."

Woman buys car with bad check

Bill Anderson of Courtesy Motors of Granite City, 1150 Niedringhaus Ave., reported at 12:50 p.m. Thursday, a Wood River woman purchased a 1973 Vega from the firm Aug. 18, giving a down payment of $500. The check was returned, and since notifying the woman the check was uncollectible, Anderson said.

Council denies zoning appeals

Action by the Granite City Plan Commission denying requests for rezoning and use permit classifications in two separate cases was upheld by the City Council Tuesday night after the petitioners in both cases appeared before the council to ask reconsideration of their petitions.

While the council heard remarks from the property owners, both seeking reclassifications that would permit them to operate businesses, the aldermen also listened to representatives of neighborhood delegations which also were present in both cases, and then voted to uphold the Plan Commission in turning down the requests.

The cases involved a request by Joseph Dittrich who originally asked for rezoning from the present R-3 (residential) zoning to a C-1 (commercial) classification on property at 234 E. 28th St., and a petition by Robert Malotki, 2701 Michigan Ave., requesting a C-1 classification rather than the present non-conforming use category.

Dittrich asked the rezoning to use the property, a former church building, for a hall, but changed his plans and sought a special use permit to install offices in the building for a window-screen contracting business after neighbors objected to the C-1 classification during the City Plan Commission meeting Sept. 21.

Malotki sought a C-1 classification to use his property for operation of a carry-out only restaurant. Residents of the area also appeared at the plan commission hearing to protest the change.

The plan commission, after hearing objections from sizeable neighborhood delegations, denied the requests in both cases.

At the council session, Attorney William Kinder, representing Dittrich, told the aldermen that Dittrich, as a result of the denial by the Plan Commission, was in the position of owning a piece of property "which he can't use for anything." He noted that after the objects protested use of the former church building for a hall, the owner withdrew the request for commercial zoning and asked instead for a special use permit to install offices in the building.

"This man will be getting a tax bill for this property, and yet he can't do anything with it," Kinder said.

John Krasag, a resident in the neighborhood spoke in behalf of a delegation when he remarked that "He (the property owner) should have thought about the taxes before he bought the property. We don't want any commercial business in the neighborhood. The government should be of the people and for the people, not for any one individual."

Krasag said any type of business "would devalue the property in our area."

Malotki spoke in his own behalf, noting that he had planned to open a carry-out restaurant service. "I wasn't given a fair opportunity to present my case because of all the people there (at the plan commission hearing), and if the facts were presented I'm sure there could be no objection to the business," Malotki said.

Mrs. Marvin Waggoner represented the objectors in that case and presented the council with a petition signed by area residents asking that the commercial classification be denied.

"Once a property is zoned commercial, it stays commercial," she said, adding, "in time any kind of business could move in."

The council also concurred in City Plan Commission recommendations that the Colonial Bank, 2400 Pontoon Road, be annexed by Granite City and classified as a C-1 (commercial) area.

Also confirmed by the aldermen was the plan commission recommendation for approval of rezoning from R-2 to R-3 zoning for property at Pontoon Road and Stearns Avenue, requested by James Schmida, the revision would permit use of the property as a doctor's office.

The council also concurred in plan commission approval of the request by Mrs. Judi Sparks, 2401 Pontoon Road, for a special use permit for operation of a gymnastic studio.

4 railroads named in suits

Granite City Engineer Monroe Brewer Tuesday filed suits against four railroads for alleged failure to cut weeds along the right-of-way between Niedringhaus Avenue and Pontoon Road.

Nine suits were filed against each of the four railroads using those tracks — Norfolk & Western, Illinois Central Gulf, Terminal Railroad Association and Conrail.

"We filed one suit for each Friday the weeds were not cut, beginning July 28. Since there were nine Fridays we found weeds we felt exceeded the height allowed, that is how many suits we filed."

"We have tried everything to get railroads to cut their weeds and I am just tired of messing with this thing. We monitored these particular tracks and took photos of the weeds before filing the suits," Brewer stated.

A Norfolk & Western representative appeared in court yesterday before Associate Judge William Johnson and was granted a request that the city supply additional information on the charges.

A hearing date is to be set in the near future.

Man hurt on I-270

Robert S. Schmelze, 24, of Highland, was admitted on Thursday to St. Elizabeth Hospital, suffering a broken left hand, cuts to the face and possible head injuries, following a three-vehicle accident.

Illinois State Police said an auto belonging to Marilyn Robinson, 31, of St. Louis, became disabled eastbound on I-270 one-half mile east of Riverview Drive at 11:55 p.m. Wednesday, and was being pushed to the edge of the highway.

The auto driven by Schmelze allegedly struck the disabled car from the rear and in turn was hit in the rear by a semi-truck driven by Eugene Hartlett, 30, of Kansas.

3 priorities for humanities study grants

The Illinois Humanities Council has just voted to embark on an innovative approach to future programming. Victoria Ranney, chairman of the federally-funded council, said three areas have been targeted for scholars and agencies alike to consider as "priority" topics.

Precedent for the IHC action was last year's decision to spur public television broadcasters to consider the problem and potential in developing a statewide public television network in Illinois.

Partly as a result of initial planning funding, the public broadcasters were ready this summer when the League of Women Voters launched political debates for the 1978 campaign. They had never even met together before the IHC put forth the proposal, Mrs. Ranney noted.

Through an Illinois Public Broadcasters Council network is still a temporary operation, IHC funding continues to assist the broadcasters in their planning and studies.

New areas set up as "priority concerns" of the IHC suggest directions for which the council invites proposals.

As suggested by the IHC program committee, and approved by the entire council, the areas involve:

1. The history and prehistory of Illinois.

2. Medicine and the humanities.

3. The aesthetic environment.

Democrat Allen backing Republicans Dan Stack and Mrs. Levis, independent Lucco

Dick Allen, as chairman of a "Committee to Elect Independent Democrats," has announced a list of candidates being supported in the Nov. 7 general election. He is a former Granite City Democratic chairman. Text of his statement follows:

"Our committee was committed in the past primary to supporting those Democratic candidates who we believed would best serve the citizens of Madison County. Among the candidates we supported were Evelyn Bowles for county clerk, Mick Henkhaus for treasurer and Capt. Emil J. Toffant for sheriff.

"These three candidates were overwhelmingly successful in the primary election. Although some of the candidates were supported were not successful, we are not embarrassed by their defeats because they were all highly-qualified candidates who maintained the high standard that we seek in candidates for public office.

"The primary elections are behind us. We believe we have a continuing obligation to the voters of Madison County to support these candidates; we feel are the most qualified and will best serve the interests of the people.

"We are therefore, at this time giving our complete support to the following candidates: Of course, Evelyn Bowles, Mick Henkhaus and Emil J. Toffant. In addition, we are supporting William E. "Bill" Johnson, candidate for circuit judge, and Gene Briggs, candidate for regional superintendent of schools.

"On the legislative level, we feel that this is an opportunity to elect three highly qualified Democrats and are recommending the election of Jim McPike, Sam Wolf and Joe Lucco, all of whom are either serving or have served well in the State House of Representatives.

Arrest youth after chase

David W. Hackethal, 17, of Rural Route Two, Box 786, Granite City, was charged with fleeing from police, illegal transportation of liquor, improper muffler and two counts of reckless driving after police chased his car in the northern portion of Granite City at 1:20 a.m. Wednesday.

Officers first alleged seeing a silver car southbound on Nameoki Road at Johnson Road being driven in a reckless manner. The auto turned around and officers chased it north at a high rate of speed to Pontoon Road, east to North Street and north on North Street where the car turned off its lights. It then turned right onto Mitchell Avenue, turned quickly around and went south on Mitchell Avenue, police said.

Officers were able to pass the car and blocked Mitchell Avenue at Pontoon Road, where the silver car stopped. The driver was ordered out of the car and allegedly got out with a cup of beer in his hand, which he emptied on the ground and threw the cup under the car.

The driver was taken to the Granite City Jail where he allegedly raised a fist toward an officer and force was used to place him in a jail cell.

Hackethal was released at 3 a.m. Wednesday on $100 cash bond.

Troy alleges Scott 'ghosts'

Richard J. Troy last week alleged that nine "ghost" lawyers and one law firm operating out of six Illinois counties have collected more than $1.7 million in legal fees for doing work for Attorney General William Scott, his Nov. 7 ballot foe.

The attorneys are among more than 350 part-time lawyers who are retained by the incumbent attorney general to perform assignments for which there is no public explanation, Troy asserted.

He has described them as "ghosts" because "members of the public and the press are not told what these lawyers do to receive such large sums of money."

Traffic blocked; driver arrested

Ernest Williams, 62, of 20 Lakeview Drive, Pontoon Beach, was arrested at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday after an accident in the 1300 block of Johnson Road, in front of Kentucky Fried Chicken. It was charged with driving while intoxicated and illegal transportation of alcohol.

Officers responded to an auto accident report and were told by witnesses at the scene that Williams allegedly was asleep at the wheel of his car in the street, backing up traffic.

The witnesses woke him up and alleged when he woke, he pressed down on the accelerator and his car moved, striking the auto of Juneia Fuchs, 2124 Lindell Blvd., who was passing his car on the left.

Williams was released at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday after posting $225 cash bond.

The first one's the sweetest

MADISON — The first is always the sweetest. Whether it's in sports or not. A baby's first steps, a teenager's first date, the first time a 16-year old boy gets the keys to the family car.

It's the same way in Madison. The Madison High School soccer team recorded three important firsts here Thursday against East St. Louis... its first victory (other than by forfeit)... its first goal (scored by Marcus White)... and its first shutout (by goalie Avery Crawford).

Madison coach Gene Briggs hopes that the victory Thursday was only the first of many more to come. But at the same time he's realistic. "I know we have a very long way to go," he said. "But once you get that first one under your belt, it sort of makes the kids feel they're doing something maybe a little worthwhile in practice."

Madison will get its next chance at a victory tomorrow (Tuesday) against Waterloo Gibault.

BRIGGS GIVES HIS HALFTIME TALK

South downs Jr. Bills...

By DOUG IRVIN
For the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — "Both games were very physical," commented South's soccer mentor Gene Baker. "I feel that we had a good weekend." Baker was talking of the two victories the soccer Warriors won Saturday and Sunday.

Saturday, South downed Jacksonville 8-0 and on Sunday on a neutral field-Cougar Field at SIUE — the Warriors struggled to beat St. Louis University High by a score of 2-1.

"Come state tournament time in Missouri," complimented coach Baker, "SIUE-High will definitely be a contender."

At Cougar Field, the Warriors boosted their record to 14-1 with a decisive victory over a tough SLU-High team. The reason behind playing at SIUE is that according to Missouri, whenever two teams meet for the first time they are supposed to play on a neutral field.

Tinsley took credit for South's first goal with 20:39 elapsed from the half. Two 40 minute halves were played yesterday instead of the four quarters. Still eleven minutes later, the familiar team of Fred Schuler and Danny Long scored South's second. Schuler shot first and hit the goal post — Long took advantage of the rebound and booted the ball into the net, 2-0.

Twelve minutes into the second half, Ed Hoppe, a junior at SLU-High scored the Junior Bills' only goal — on a head ball assisted by Kevin Kelly. "Costello (South's goal keeper) had a real fine game," said coach Baker. "I'd like to compliment SLU's team — tough."

Saturday morning, South traveled to Jacksonville to take on an eighty minute battle. South won that contest 6-0. The Warriors had 22 shots on goal and four corner kicks.

South's goal were well scattered out. Three came in the first quarter and the second period was scoreless. Add four more in the third and toss one in the fourth and one gets a 8-0 win for the Warriors.

Jack Burnett scored first for the winner Warriors. Burnett was assisted by David Fernandez. Fernandez assisted by Schuler, Frank Schwartzkopf assisted by David Mendoza, and Schuler assisted by Fernandez scored four more goals for South.

Randy DeRousse and Phil Beljanski, both unassisted scored two more. DeRousse assisted by Schuler and Long assisted by Tim Powderly racked up the Warriors' last two points.

"This Thursday we play Granite North at the Gauntlet — we haven't been beaten there since 1975. We are really looking forward to that game," said Baker. Before Thursday's game, the Warriors will travel to Cahokia today to play the Comanches.

FRED SCHULER of South's Warrior soccer team gets his feet tangled up with St. Louis University High's Dan Lenzen (13) yesterday at the prep soccer game played at Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville's Cougar Field. South upped its record to 14-1 on the season with a 2-1 victory. The Warriors travel to Cahokia today and then get ready for a showdown with cross-town power Granite City North Thursday afternoon at South. Starting time for the junior varsity game is 4 p.m., with the varsity contest immediately after.

...North beats Lancers

GRANITE CITY — After barely getting by Alton 3-2 last Thursday, Granite City North's Steeler kickers bounced back here Saturday with a resounding 9-0 shellacking of Belleville East on the North field.

The Steelers totally dominated play against the hapless Lancers and got 21 shots on goal, compared to East's three.

"I was pleased with our play," said North coach Bob Kehoe. "I know it wasn't much of a test, but we got a look at some people we haven't been able to use, so that we know where we stand depth-wise."

Mike Robertson got the Steeler scoring started at the 12:29 mark of the first quarter when he took a pass from Ken Myracle and fired the ball into the net.

With 57 seconds left in the period, Glenn Edwards got an unassisted goal for North.

The Steelers scored four goals in the second quarter, but could have easily been more.

At the 4:40 mark, Mark Jones got a rebound of a Glenn Edwards shot which had hit the goal post and fired it home. Then it was Jeff Joyce's turn. He took a pass from Robertson at the 4:01 mark of the period and fired it past an over-worked East goalie.

Then Edwards got that goal he had barely missed minutes earlier when he had hit the post. He got the rebound of a Jeff DeMott shot which also hit the post and fired it into the net.

Then DeMott got his chance to score. He took a pass from Jones with 58 seconds left in the period and scored to make it 6-0 at halftime.

Then North coach Kehoe emptied the bench. In the third period, he used much of his junior varsity team... and still scored two goals. At the 16:56 mark, Jeff Puryear took a Lee Gavlick pass and scored and at the 8:06 mark, he scored off an assist from Robert Seales.

"It's good to get a look at as many people as possible," said Kehoe. "With many of our games being close, we haven't had the luxury of using too many reserves."

In the fourth quarter, Kehoe put his starters back into the game. What? With a team up 8-0, put the starters back in?

Yup. With one minor stipulation. "I told them they could only score on head balls," said Kehoe. "That way, they got a chance to work the ball around, work on their corner kicks, and also work on their head balls."

They did. And they scored. At the 9:41 mark of the period, DeMott headed in a high pass from Jeff Joyce to round out the scoring.

Thursday Against Alton, North got the game-winning goal from Robertson with just five minutes left in the game. The Steelers took a 1-0 lead on a DeMott goal and tied it 2-2 on another DeMott goal.

...and the two teams clash Thursday at South

YMCA swim registrations

Registration for swimming instruction at the Tri-City Area YMCA has begun at the "Y" located at 2001 Edison Avenue. This series of classes begins Oct. 2 on a four-week basis.

The YMCA has classes for all ages from six months to senior citizens. The "Y's" popular Draper Dip classes offer a unique opportunity for parents to enter the water with their children. The temperature of the "Y" pool is maintained between 82 to 84 degrees on a year-round basis. Adult classes are held in the evening and during the day.

Interested individuals should pre-register by calling the "Y" at 876-7200. Classes are 45 minutes in length, and there are eight class meetings per session.

see the battle of the soccer titans. The prize will be the soccer championship of the city of Granite City, Ill.

"The winner will receive glowing rights for the remainder of the current season, that is until the sectional, when the two will probably meet again. It seems they always do."

"In this corner, weighing in with a 14-1 record (it will change by game-time), the defending champion of the state, the Granite City High School South Warriors."

"And in this corner, weighing in with a 2-3 record, the challenger, the Granite City High School North Steelers."

Sometime Thursday afternoon at Granite City South's soccer field (nick-named the "Gauntlet"), one of two things will happen. Either Granite City North will come up with its first victory in two years over the Warriors (and the first all-time defeat for South in over four), or South will come up with yet another heart-stopping victory over the Steelers.

Last season the teams met twice. The first time, North dominated play most of the game, but South came up with a last-period goal and tied the Steelers 1-1 in the regular season meeting.

Then in the semi-finals of the sectional at South in October, South came up with a last-minute goal to hand North a 3-2 defeat.

"My kids are really looking forward to it," said North coach Bob Kehoe. "We've got a lot of hard work to do, and I know I'll probably be practicing longer than usual this week to get ready. But I know by game time, we will be ready."

South mentor Gene Baker voiced similar feelings. "We're confident about it," he said. "We're playing this one at our place, so that's always an advantage, we haven't been beaten here in almost four years."

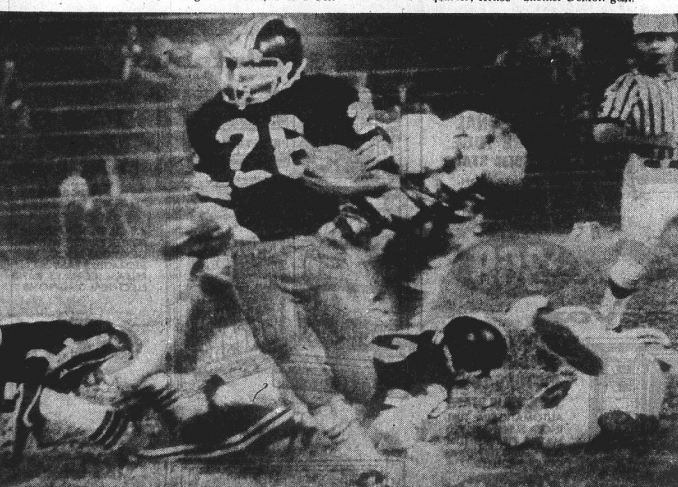

South will have one game before the North-South contest Thursday beginning at 4 p.m. with the junior varsity game.

The Warriors face Cahokia today on the road. But North has nothing to do this week but practice. And Kehoe said his squad will be doing lots of it.

"We're finally starting to come together more as a team," he said. "It's obvious we have the talent, but we've had some problems putting it to use."

Kehoe's charges finally did put it together. They put a 9-0 pounding to Belleville East Saturday in preparation. But South hasn't been playing many patsies getting ready for this one. Take last week for instance. The Warriors downed Lebanon, McCluer North, Jacksonville and tough St. Louis University High in a span of six days.

Yesterday, the Warriors defeated the Jr. Bills of SLU 2-1 in an exciting contest at SIUE-Edwardsville's Cougar Field.

WARRIOR RUNNING BACK Jeff Bergrader picks up some yardage Friday night against Cahokia in South's annual homecoming contest. The Warriors took the ball game to the Comanches all night long, but wound up on the short end of 7-0 score.

Madison kickers gain first win; defeat East St. Louis Senior Gene Briggs' Madison High School varsity soccer team still hasn't reached parity with such powerhouse as Granite City's South and North, and Collinsville, but the players and their coach are convinced solid progress is being made.

Madison had earlier been credited with a 2-0 forfeit victory over Northwest of St. Louis.

District

State Final Tournament, scheduled Oct. 20-21 in the Arlington Hills area. The championship matches will be conducted on the courts west of Arlington High School, 265 W. Euclid Ave., on Saturday, Oct. 28, beginning at approximately 1:00 p.m. District qualifiers will be joined by the first eight place finishers in the Chicago Public League tournament at the State Final.

Jaeger will attempt to become the second singles player in the short history of the tournament series to win three singles crowns. Suzie Replogle of Oak Park-River Forest won the crown as a freshman in 1972, and again as a junior in 1974 and senior in 1975.

Following is a year-by-year breakdown on the number of schools entering the tournament series since its inception: 1972 — 123, 1973 — 199, 1974 — 245, 1975 — 252, 1976 — 260, 1977 — 267, and 1978 — 301.

Thursday against East St. Louis Senior, the Trojans came up with their first goal and victory of the season when they defeated the Flyers 1-0.

Marcus White scored the lone goal of the game at the 16:34 mark of the first half. The Trojans outshot the Flyers 7-4. Ed Forster received credit for an assist on the White goal.

"This is fantastic," said an elated Gene Briggs, Madison coach. "We've worked hard for it. I guess it makes the players feel they're doing something a little worthwhile in all those practice sessions."

The game had to be halted, however, for a five minute "cooling off" period in the second half. East St. Louis players seemed a little more intent on dealing out punishment to Madison than in playing clean soccer.

"I thought they got kind of rough on there... unnecessarily," said Briggs. "But I told my players just to keep their mouths closed and play soccer. That's the only way to handle these matters."

Madison will get its chance at a second victory tomorrow (Tuesday) when it hosts Waterloo Galtail at 4 p.m.

Holder of a 1-5 record for 1978 prior to the clash with the Flyers of East St. Louis, the Madisonians are intent on achieving improvement over the 1-8 record of 1977, their first year of interscholastic play.

Lacking the luxury of a "club season" in which the main competition is from junior varsity squads, the Trojans encountered tough foes from the start but feel this has helped them to mature.

Key MHS athletes include Ed Forster, Jim Riskovsky, Lloyd Branch, Dave Mooshegan, Jim Woodson, Avery Crawford and Marcus White.

Pro football's violence—too high a price to pay?

By JACK MURPHY
Those who express concern about wanton violence in pro football must be even more depressed than usual.

The exhibition games — left New England receiver Darryl Stingley paralyzed, perhaps for life, and it's not especially reassuring to learn he'll receive $1,000 in monthly benefits from the National Football League.

If Stingley isn't troublesome to the NFL's conscience, he should be. He was hit by Oakland's Jack Tatum when he was without the football, and there are people in football who would congratulate Tatum for his aggressive play.

But football, including the college game, has become insensitive to the suffering of its victims. The sport is losing its humanity.

I almost agree with attorney Bob Baxley when he says football, with its mindless violence, is taking us back to the era of the lions and the Christians. "The whole thing is insane," says Baxley. "Now we have a Coliseum in every city."

Football has always been violent; it's a collision sport, not a contact sport. But the abuses and excesses are growing. The trend is alarming. It's disturbing that NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle and the club owners don't institute reforms that would protect the players from themselves and their coaches without harming the game.

I like football but I get no pleasure from watching a defensive back attack a receiver when he is away from the ball, relaxed and vulnerable. The rules need revision and strict reinforcement.

On the last weekend of the exhibition season three prominent quarterbacks were injured. The name of the game, Joe Namath used to say, is "kill the quarterback." Does the public's blood lust require the sacrifice of Bob Griese, Ken Anderson and Bert Jones?

Oakland's John Madden is on target when he says the NFL should protect its quarterbacks as it protects the punters. There should be tough penalties for striking the quarterback after he has released the ball. Repeaters should be subject to fines and suspensions.

There is something fundamentally wrong with a sport which encourages violence as a form of intimidation. No matter that the athletes accept punishment without complaint. They are conditioned to live with pain. It's instructive that Lydell Mitchell, the all-pro running back, reasons that he has to catch the ball because the consequences are always unpleasant.

"I know I'm going to get hit whether I catch it or not," says Mitchell. "I might as well make them pay a price."

Football is successful economically and artistically. TV ratings are so high the owners will receive $66 million for broadcasting rights over the next four seasons. But I can't believe the game would be less attractive if some of the sadians were eliminated. I don't want to see a receiver ground into the turf after he has gone out of bounds. Clotheslining — striking a player in the throat with the lack of the draw. But there are former players who are worried about the direction of the sport.

Pettis Norman, for example. He left the NFL after the 1973 season with a knee that will have to be rebuilt with steel and plastic. Now he operates fast food restaurants (Burger King) in Dallas. "The violence we have seen in football the last three or four years is especially bad," says Norman, "and I know why. It's taught by the coaches. Football is scary. I used to love it. Now I'm not sure I would want to play it again."

Comedian RICHARD PRYOR gave $100,000 to the JERRY LEWIS Muscular Dystrophy Fund. Why did he do it?

"I have my reasons," he murmured. "It's like if you make a wish and you light the candles, you're not supposed to tell nobody or else it won't come true."

"That's my feeling. I won't tell nobody. I just did it."

DAVID BRENNER and ALAN KING do a whole routine against the airlines in their stage shows and they get their material from actual experiences. Well, now comedienne JOAN RIVERS can get in the act and knock, not the airlines but ocean liners.

Saw Joan a few days before she took off on her voyage. She was really looking forward to this vacation — to unwind. What she wasn't counting on was being literally locked in her cabin and having to be removed by blowtorch. A comedic writer couldn't have come up with better material than her actual experience.

Wood reinforces fiberglass

When buying or repairing boats, people are sometimes surprised or puzzled to find wooden reinforcing members buried inside the fiberglass laminate. Is this good or bad, some want to know? Will it eventually rot and weaken the boat?

According to experts, the incorporation of wood in fiberglass boats is a recognized and approved practice. If the wood is totally dry when built into a fiberglass laminate, and if care is taken to cover it over completely with fiberglass, wood is very unlikely to rot.

This is because a sound covering of fiberglass tends to seal out dampness quite well. Also, rot experts believe that the resin brushed onto the wood's surface while the work is being done tends to inhibit rot spores from germinating and developing into wood-rotting fungus.

Plywood is often used for a good reason. During manufacture, big logs are peeled into thin veneers, which tends to dry out quickly. Then the best of the laminating presses tends to drive off any remaining moisture. So by the time a sheet of wood finds its way to a boat factory, it is likely to be very dry. When long, slim stringers of wood are used to reinforce boat hulls, they are often mainly for the purpose of providing shape over which to lay and brush down glass mat into "U" and "hat-section" reinforcing girders. Occasionally such a strip rots, but as most of the strength is in the fiberglass over it, hull strength is hardly affected.

Record third quarter at A. O. Smith Corp.

A. O. Smith's strong profit performance in the first half of 1978 will continue in the third quarter, L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, said this week.

He estimated earnings in the three months ended Sept. 30, historically the low period of the year for the company, will be at an all-time high for a third quarter and substantially above the depressed third quarter of 1977. Sales for the period should be at record levels, Smith said.

The third-quarter results will mean that the company should set profit and sales records for the first nine months of the year, the chairman added.

Smith estimated earnings in the third quarter of between $4.2 million and $4.7 million or 85 to 95 cents per share, on sales of $185 million, compared with earnings of $10,000, or two cents per share, with sales of $186 million last year.

Profits as a percentage of sales in the quarter will be about 2.4 percent, compared to .06 percent in 1977.

For the nine months, Smith estimated earnings in the range of $20.1 million to $20.6 million, or $4.00 to $4.19 per share, on sales of $600 million.

In the first nine months of 1977, the company earned $18.6 million, or $2.40 per share, with sales of $535 million. Profit as a percentage of sales in the first nine months of 1978 will be about 3.4 percent, compared with 2.1 percent last year.

The Automotive Division will lead operating units in profit improvement in the third quarter compared with last year, Smith said.

While dollar sales will be only slightly above a year ago, this division will report a profit compared with a loss last year. The reason for this, Smith said, is improved operating efficiencies due to the absence of model changes, which last year had a major negative impact on the division.

Sales in the third quarter will be up 40 percent over a year ago at the Electric Motor Division, Smith said, leading this operating unit to a substantial profit improvement. This division manufactures electric motors for air-conditioning, refrigeration and water pumps. The air-conditioning market has been particularly strong this summer.

A. O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc., a subsidiary which manufactures livestock feeding systems, will also report a substantial profit improvement over the third quarter of last year. Favorable economic conditions in the livestock market have helped boost the sales of Harvestore systems. This higher volume, coupled with improved manufacturing operations, contributed to the increase in profits for the quarter.

The Consumer Products Division will also report higher sales and profits in the third quarter this year compared with 1977. This unit, which manufactures water heating equipment, is rebounding from a strike at its major manufacturing facility early this summer.

A. O. Smith, with its subsidiaries and affiliates, is a diversified manufacturer. Its product line includes water heating equipment, electric motors, agricultural feed storage and handling systems, auto and truck frames, fiber glass reinforced plastic pipe and computer services.

'Lame duck' legislation seen as '78 possibility

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Nature lovers may be harkening to the book of southward-winging wild geese, but Capitol Hill bird watchers are listening for the flapping of "lame ducks."

Unless Congress moves or considerable disapproval, a post-election session is inevitable. If that happens, retiring lawmakers—who do not have to fear the voters' wrath—could be instrumental in determining the fate of major bills.

Even if every incumbent seeking re-election succeeds, 12 percent of Congress will be retirement of primary defeats. Rep. George Shipley, D-Ohio, is the only Illinois lawmaker stepping down voluntarily. Unless the pace quickens, a "lame duck" session is likely. Congressional leaders, who had hoped to adjourn Oct. 7, now are shooting for Oct. 14.

If the calendar is not cleared by then, it is expected the lawmakers will go home to campaign and return after the Nov. 7 general election for the legislative clean-up.

Any legislation not approved before the new Congress convenes Jan. 3, 1979, will have to be restarted from scratch.

In addition to a host of conference committees meeting to resolve conflicts between House and Senate versions of bills on the same topic, there is a plethora of tarry issues to be resolved.

Among the controversial issues hanging fire are tax relief, labor law revisions, extension of the deadline for ratifying the Equal Rights Amendment and natural gas deregulation, the last item in President Carter's energy package.

"Lame duck" sessions, once comparatively rare, are now not that unusual.

Since the start of the decade, Congress has returned after every other election to grapple with issues it could not agree on before facing the voters.

In 1970, Congress returned from a pre-election break and worked right up to Jan. 3, 1971, the day before the new Congress took over.

In 1974, Congress took a campaign break on Oct. 17, returned Nov. 18, and did not wrap up the session until Dec. 20.

If that every-other-election pattern of this decade holds, they will be coming back after this election as well. Before the dawn of this decade, Congress was more inclined to conclude its work—or abandon it—before the election. From the end of World War II until 1970, there were only three "lame duck" sessions—in 1948, 1950 and 1954.

At least one Byrd is expecting "lame ducks." Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd, D-W.Va., is warning colleagues to stop arguing or face a stack of bills in post-election session.

"You come back for a bobtail session, and you'll get everything thrown at you but the kitchen sink," he said in a floor speech.

Not only are post-election sessions becoming more common, but the number of "lame ducks" is on the rise. It is not a matter of voters shooting them down in the general election, only to see them cast a few more votes before they exit Congress. It is a matter of an increasing number of Congressmen leaving office on their own volition.

For the fourth consecutive election year, the number of congressmen vacating office to retire or seek other elective office has increased.

This year, 49 representatives and 10 senators are leaving office voluntarily. Those totals do not include five representatives and two senators defeated in the primaries.

That tops the post-World War II record set in 1976 when eight senators and 47 representatives left office voluntarily. The 49 representatives include 31 who are retiring and 18 who made or are making bids for other offices.

The 10 senators include nine retirements and Sen. Kaneston Hodges Jr., the appointed replacement of the late Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark. Arkansas law bars appointed senators from running.

The reasons for the exits are numerous. Age, generous Congressional retirement plans, longer Congressional days and sessions, new limits on outside income, more stringent rules regarding disclosure of personal and campaign finances, and increased public cynicism and distrust are among the reasons that have been cited.

If the disenchantment evidenced by "Proposition 13" is any indication, the number of winged deliberators will increase after the general election ballots are counted.

And if the tough problems are put off until after the election, there will be no shortage of lawmakers who can vote without first having to ponder how the folks back home will react.

Women pay $185 fines in theft of small items

Three women paid a total of $185 in fines and court costs for theft of $40 worth of small items from the P.N. Hirsch store, Gaslight Plaza, Pontoon Beach, at 12:46 p.m. Wednesday.

Police reported the manager of the store called officers and told them he believed three women were shoplifting, as their purses were "getting fatter and fatter."

Pontoon Beach police stopped the three women as they left the store. They were arrested on a city theft charge and taken to court where they pleaded guilty.

The three women fined were Peggy Hammon, 40, of Wood River; Jennifer Dubois, 28, of Alton; and Joan Crussing, 27, also of Wood River.

Earns scholastic honors

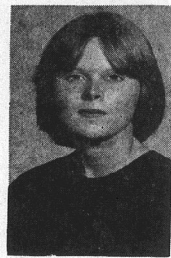

Karen Hornback of Granite City has been named a National Merit Scholarship semi-finalist as a result of her performance in qualifying examinations taken in the 1977-78 school year while a junior at Granite City High School South.

Miss Hornback, 17, currently is enrolled as a freshman at Washington University, St. Louis, where she has received the honor of being named a Chancellor's Scholar.

Chancellor's scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic excellence to outstanding incoming freshmen for a four-year period.

Selection as a National Merit Scholarship semi-finalist indicates Miss Hornback's scores were within the top one-half of one percent of all scores in the qualifying competition throughout the country.

Further consideration are given all semi-finalists prior to the announcement next spring of the national finalists.

MR. AND MRS. GARY HOLLAND. They were united in marriage in an afternoon ceremony at St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church. Formerly Tina Podraza, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Podraza, 2345 Woodlawn Ave.

Holland-Podraza nuptials at St. Elizabeth Church

St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding on Sept. 9, of Miss Tina Podraza, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Podraza, 2345 Woodlawn Ave., and Gary Holland, 4062 Sara St., a son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Holland of Kennett, Mo.

Father Kenneth Becker officiated at the 2 o'clock afternoon ceremony. Sprigs of dry wheat tied with wine color satin bows marked the pews. Musical selections played during the service included Sound of Silence and Scarborough Fair by Simon and Garfunkle.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Podraza wore a formal length ivory A-line style gown created in a polyester crepe.

Long trumpet designed sleeves accented with lace and seed pearls were set into an Empire bodice of Alencon lace featuring a mandarin neckline.

The semi-full skirt fell softly into a chapel train and was bordered with lace trim.

Her fingertip, lace edged, veil of bridal illusion was secured to a Juliet cap of Alencon lace, etched with pearls. She carried an arrangement of silk apricot buds mixed with dried wheat and roses.

Honor attendant was Dawn L. Oram and bridesmaids included Babette Hoelling and Debbie Podraza.

They chose identical floor length dresses fashioned in a cream color fabric embellished with a floral print in a peasant style.

A brown satin ribbon defined the waistlines and V-necklines and bishop sleeves. A gathered double flounce encircled the hemlines.

Their floral arrangements were similar to the bridal bouquet.

The flower girl, Stacia Podraza, was dressed in a long ivory lace frock made with bell sleeves and enhanced with an ivory satin trim.

Christopher Holland served as the ringbearer.

Attending the groom as best man was Ron Holland Jerry and Paul Podraza, Mike MacMillan and Don Holland. Completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception given at the Knights of Columbus Hall. A rehearsal dinner was held at Rostie's Restaurant in Collinsville.

The bride is a senior student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Her husband is presently employed as a supervisor for Consolidated Flavors Co.

College level tests revised

Newly revised general tests of the College-Level Examination (CLEP) will be given for the first time Saturday, Oct. 21, at SIUE.

The tests will be administered on the third Saturday of each month thereafter, according to Viola Daugherty, acting director of the General Studies office.

CLEP general exams in English composition, mathematics, humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences evaluate knowledge of liberal arts subjects acquired outside the classroom for college credit and placement purposes, Mrs. Daugherty said.

Recognized by more than 1,800 colleges and universities throughout the country, the tests have just been revised to strengthen the validity of their content, she said, and to offer more options to colleges interested in evaluating a student's writing ability.

This was done by lengthening all five tests from 60 to 90 minutes and by adding an essay section as an alternative to the English composition examination.

One version of the new English composition test will include a 45-minute essay section and a 45-minute multiple choice section. This version will be offered in October and again in June.

The other version is a 90-minute multiple choice exam which will be offered each time the CLEP tests are scheduled.

The revisions were made after two years of study, including a national survey of college policies on awarding credit by examination, Mrs. Daugherty said.

Sponsored by the College Board, the CLEP program permits both traditional and non-traditional students to demonstrate college level competency, no matter where or how their knowledge was acquired — on the job, through informal study, private reading or non-credit courses of military training.

CLEP also offers tests in 47 subject areas, ranging from an introduction to sociology to computers and data processing. Cost of each examination is $20.

Additional information concerning the CLEP program may be obtained by contacting the General Studies Division located in the John S. Rensdeman Building at SIUE or by writing to CLEP, Box 1903, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10103.

SIU-E Cougar kickers down UMSL 7-0

EDWARDSVILLE — The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Cougar soccer team upped its season's record to 5-1, and its winning streak to three games here yesterday with a 7-0 trashing of the University of Missouri-St. Louis (UMSL).

Don Ebert opened the Cougar scoring at the 1:37 mark of the first half on assist from Brian Higgins. Then Jeff Cacciatore took a pass from Matt Malloy at the 21:59 mark and headed the ball past UMSL goalie Dennis Murphy.

Dave Hummert scored out the SIUE first half rounding at the 22:30 mark with a goal assisted by Tim Clark.

In the second half, Ebert scored at the 64:30 mark on another assist from Higgins. Dave Hundell scored unassisted at 64:50. Tim Guelker scored from Cacciatore to 62:36 and Ebert got the hat trick when he scored on a penalty kick at the 69:48 mark.

SIU board wrong in reviving campus autonomy issue this fall; public will need to speak and urge decentralization

One of the most inappropriate proposals imaginable — elimination of autonomy for the local university, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville — will be the topic of public hearings here Oct. 17 and at Carbondale Nov. 9. The plan calls for a single chief executive to run both of the 100-miles-apart universities, eliminating the two presidents.

It will be recalled that while both universities are operated under policies set by the same Board of Trustees, it became increasingly apparent that the institutions are dissimilar and serve widely varying needs and regions. Establishment of separate administrations was a giant forward step that has had many positive results.

The board has no business raising such a divisive, destructive issue at this time. It is coming from "left field," not from the heart of the programs, services and valid functions of the two universities.

That it is on this fall's agenda underscores earlier concern that the board lacks adequate understanding of and interest in SIUC and SIUE and instead may be antagonistic toward their approaches and goals.

Picked for varying reasons by a succession of governors, the trustees come from a wide geographic area and some have little discernible link with the two institutions of higher learning.

Apparently part of the board wants to select a "super chief" and vest him with top administrative authority in such key matters as budgeting, academic planning, auditing and external relations. It will be recalled that this concept was shown to be cumbersome and self-defeating when a "system administrator" was interposed as an added layer between the campus leaders and the board in past years.

SIUE President Kenneth Shaw is known to favor decentralization and diversity, rather than centralization and conformity, and has warned that centralization — as illustrated by federal governmental trends — would change because of the concentration of power.

The University Senate took a clear stand Thursday against "any changes in the SIU system that would dilute in any manner the existing academic, administrative and fiscal autonomy of the component universities within the governance system."

Madison-St. Clair counties residents have fought the autonomy battle before and thought they had won. Why old wounds should be reopened by the trustees now is hard to rationalize or justify. But since the question is being raised, it will be up to the public as well as students, staff and faculty members to speak out.

Need for 19th Street overpass should be clear to U.S.

Interstate 270 includes an overpass above railroad tracks at Michael and there is a Broadway underpass in Venice but the need remains for an auto traffic grade separation over busy rail lines through the heart of Granite City.

As pointed out before a gathering of citizens on the lawn of the City Hall on Saturday, there is intense public desire for an overpass structure at 19th Street, and the remaining $3 million needed to complete the financing is being sought from the U.S. Housing and Urban Development Department.

Congressman Melvin Price was present to hear the proposal and indicated he will give it full attention. He and the two U.S. senators from Illinois are being told of the need to link the central and western areas of the municipality, and — as was noted at the Sept. 19 City Council meeting — Uncle Sam should weigh the project against an announced allocation of $25 million for seven — count them, seven — overpasses in East St. Louis.

Petitions containing more than 7,000 signatures stress the importance of the overpass, which would be not only an economic boon but also would enhance traffic safety and improve access for emergency vehicles.

Construction bids can be sought early in 1979 if sufficient funds can be found. Of the estimated cost of $7,600,000, the Illinois Commerce Commission grade crossing safety protection fund is providing $1,700,000. Federal Aid for Urban Systems $1,400,000, and railroads and the city are contributing substantial amounts.

Mrs. Jeanette Scannell, No. 51 Volf Court, wife of Madison businessman Wayne Scannell, broke her left ankle Friday night following the Granite City High School South football game.

The Scannells were returning to their car after the game when she stepped in a hole in the field between Coolidge Junior High School and the South gym.

The break was reportedly severe, causing a pin to be inserted in the ankle.

Elizabeth is in room 329 at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

GC officer recovering from wound

Granite City Patrolman Jerry Duncan is in satisfactory condition today at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, where he underwent surgery Friday for removal of a bullet, believed to have lodged between the skull and scalp.

The officer

later today or Tuesday, it was learned. Duncan is believed to have been struck by a .38-caliber bullet, fired at a car in which he was riding early Thursday, on or near Highway 157 in Centerville.

Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Vetter is referring the case to the St. Louis Police Department, who is in charge of the investigation.

Chief Shamalian could not be reached for comment. He has said no information will be released by his department concerning the incident until the investigation is completed and all aspects of the case are stabilized.

It was learned from unofficial sources that the wounded officer — with two other Granite City policemen and two other friends — had been celebrating the approaching marriage of a fellow officer at a bachelor's party at a tavern in the Centerville area Wednesday night, prior to the shooting incident.

The bullet that struck Duncan is believed to have shattered the rear window of the vehicle in which he was riding, before striking him.

No arrests have been made.

Scholarships at 4 schools

REINHARDT-Realtor Sells-BETTERLIVING

Cooperation aided screening program

To the Editor: I would like to apologize to the parents who didn't have the opportunity to have their children tested in the recent lead screening program.

Due to the larger than expected turnout, the screening fell behind schedule and, as a result, all the intended areas could not be covered.

The efforts of many people and organizations contributed to a successful two and a half days of screening.

The Illinois Association of Retarded Citizens had three from its staff who accompanied the van used for the testing — Kevin Breslin, Dr. Peter Breslin and Maryetta Lane.

The State Council of the Knights of Columbus funds these screening programs through the annual Tootsie Roll sale.

T. A. Feeler, grand knight of KC Council 1080, and district deputy, Dr. J. R. Vasiloff, and other members of the Knights gave assistance.

Mrs. Barbara Madison, Mrs. Agnes Sylvester, Miss Beverly Buckles and Mrs. Anne Clegat participated from the Madison County Urban League; Miss Nina Dittman, school nurse in the Madison district; Mrs. Doris McLain, school nurse in the Venice school district.

Al Hudzik, president, represented the Madison Venice Rotary Club; Mrs. Irene Kossman, president, and members of the Lincoln Place Mothers Club took part; Mrs. Patricia Daves, Mrs. Dorothy Baker and Idell Becker of the Wilson School PTA; Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Valencia; Mrs. Larry Brandon; and Jack Kanady, from the Mt. Vernon Association for Retarded Citizens.

Articles made parents aware of the possible effects of lead; Schermer's Supermarket made all the children happy with treats; and St. Elizabeth Hospital made supplies available when the IARC's supplies were depleted.

The cities of Granite City, Madison and Venice and their officials helped the cause. School districts in the Tri-City area provided school nurses and messages were sent home by the students. Churches made announcements and distributed literature, and confectioneries and grocery stores distributed literature.

Many concerned parents had an opportunity to have their children tested.

All of the above should be commended for the fine job they did and the hard work they performed.

Stop town's dollar waste immediately

To the Editor: In Thursday's article in the Press-Record, "Costly items for township," expenditures authorized by Nameoki Township Highway Commissioner Frank Melic were outlined.

Without question, the points documented in your newspaper bear repeating, especially since they touch on an issue of concern to us all — that government spending has to be brought under control, and that incidents of waste must be stopped immediately.

This latter point has been a central theme of my campaign for the County Board. Several questions raised by your article directly relate to this campaign and warrant further elaboration.

First, there exists a close relationship between Melic and Louis Whitsell, one of my County Board opponents. I would like to know just how many of these purchases were authorized through these purchases.

The question needs answering, since Whitsell was hired as a foreman by Melic in connection with the highway department.

A salesman handled the purchases made by the township. Not so long ago, both the salesman and Whitsell were employed by the same construction company.

I applaud the Press-Record for its diligence in this fine piece of investigative reporting. If the facts are explored further, I am confident that my comments concerning Whitsell will be confirmed.

I am dedicated to the principle of public service. Not only do I believe in the principle of public service, but so do documented charges of nepotism on the part of Whitsell.

I hope that as this campaign progresses, an impartial source such as the Press-Record will examine what I have said and report the evidence which is uncovered.

P-R praised on county investigation

To the Editor: I wish to congratulate the Press-Record and its staff for their untiring efforts to produce the Press-Record. Their evidence that they should do as their duty in filling the job they were hired to do is most commendable.

We certainly don't vote for people just to sit and do nothing and let unethical people go. We vote for people because we think they will do the job they were elected to do. It amounts to public trust.

When that trust is violated, they should be removed from that office regardless as to who they are.

I realize we can't go by hearsay, so investigation is in order first. Then, if evidence is sufficient to warrant court action — so that the person be brought to court.

But when someone reads the 5th Amendment, there is something dead wrong, to me. I'm saying, "I have a right to not implicate myself. You find undisputed facts by testimony, or other means and prove me guilty."

That's what Mr. Partney is trying to do, and if the other elects officials would cooperate we could have clean government in our county.

If all the voters in Madison County will remember those board members who went against the investigation, and never vote for them to hold office in Madison County again, it would serve notice to all elected officials to "keep the trust invested by our votes, or out you go."

I hope the new sheriff will get in the middle of this, clean the house, and set things in order as it should be — even at the cost of some losing jobs.

MADISON CITIZEN

Young people active and enthusiastic

To the Editor: On Sunday, Sept. 24, a number of students from South High School showed their interest and enthusiasm in the Sports Complex Lighting Project by conducting door-to-door campaign for donations.

This was done only in the boundaries of the South district and, in general, was well received.

At the same time that the students were going door to door, another group of students and adults was filling in holes and leveling dirt at the Coolidge and why they occur the carnival was held this past spring. This was to get the field back into the condition it was in before the carnival damaged the area due to the severe rains.

We know there are strengths and weaknesses in our teenage society of today, but these students — with the help of a group of volunteer parents — did something for our community that many others have talked about for many years.

We are proud of these "doers" and not just "talkers." Both boys and girls athletes will benefit from the sports complex, as will their parents as spectators.

With the support of our city fathers, the Jaycees and other business and service organizations, it seems that the start of the lighting project is about to become a reality.

We sincerely appreciate the enthusiasm of the students and all those involved in the project thus far. We hope to make it one of the finest facilities in the metropolitan area.

We know the people of Granite City will be proud they have contributed.

Candidacy by Sparks isn't costly

To the Editor: Certain precinct committees are telling people that it cost the county several thousand dollars to put my name on the ballot.

This is not true. This is what the county clerk,

Miss Evelyn Bowles, told me when I inquired of her about this: "The cost of placing your name on the ballot was minimal, practically nothing. We don't print the page anyway."

My opponents don't have anything good to brag about themselves, so they have to make false allegations of cost to attract the public's attention to them.

'Mr. Big' is revealed

THE TRAIN ROBBERS
By Piers Paul Read
(J. B. Lippincott, 1978)

Reviewed by David L. Butler
SUE Department of English
Novelist Piers Paul Read has just written his second work of non-fiction.

Following his best-seller, "Alive: The Story of the Andes Survivors," about airplane crash victims "forced" to cannibalism to survive, "The Train Robbers" chronicles the robbery of $7 million from a Glasgow-to-London mail train by 15 masked men Aug. 6, 1963.

Even 15 years after the event, the book has much to recommend it. Read has first-hand information from seven of the robbers now released on parole.

Second, he reveals for the first time the "Mr. Big" who financed the operation and received nearly half the loot, a former Waffen SS officer who led German commandos in World War II and rescued Mussolini from the Gran Sasso.

Finally, Read's ability to transform historical data into exciting narrative while retaining objective detachment makes "The Train Robbers" recommended reading.

Projection is increased

Post Corporation Thursday revised upward its profit projection for 1978. It now expects this year's earnings per share to be approximately 30 percent more than those for 1977.

Shareholders were told at their annual meeting in April that the newspaper and broadcasting firm expected to increase its profits by 20 percent in 1978. A spokesman said that projection is being revised because results since then indicate a stronger increase.

In 1977, Post earned $3,106,000, or $3.48 per share.

Strikes parked car, sustained injuries

Virginia M. Painter, 18, of 2721 Marshall Ave., sustained injuries at 2:45 a.m. Friday, when the auto she was driving struck a parked vehicle, owned by Ramon H. Rutledge, 2528 E. 27th St., parked in the 2700 block of Ralph Street.

Should we have had Employers' Non-Ownership Auto Liability insurance endorsed onto our Multi-Peril business insurance?"

Three hurt in Rt. 111 crash

Three persons were injured in a two-car crash on Route 111 one-half mile south of Sand Prairie Lane at 7:15 p.m. Friday.

State police said the accident occurred when a southbound car driven by Randy Hudgens, 24, of East Alton, went out of control and skidded sideways into the path of a northbound car driven by Countiss Houston, 57, of 4932 Redwood Lane, Granite City.

Houston and a passenger, Johnnie Houston, 53, of the Redwood Lane address, were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital here. Mrs. Houston was dazed and suffered head injuries and was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

Houston was treated for a left leg injury and pain to the lower left back and was released. State police said Hudgens also received hospital treatment.

Four injured in three-car crash

Three vehicles, all eastbound in the 1300 block of Edwardsville Road at 1:40 p.m. Thursday, were involved in a collision that left four persons injured, two of them children.

Drivers of the autos were Debra K. Taylor, 19 Wilson Park Drive, Rosalie F. Thomas, 2009 Edwardsville Road, Madison, and Frances E. James, 2127 Lincoln Ave.

Mrs. Thomas was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for pain in the neck and back and later released. Dana Wallace, 14, of 2009 Edwardsville Road, Madison, a passenger, bumped her head and shoulder. She had X-rays taken at the hospital and was released.

Robert James, 11, of 2127 Lincoln Ave., a passenger, struck his head on the dashboard. He had X-rays taken at St. Elizabeth Hospital and was released after treatment.

Miss James also reportedly suffered an injury and went to the hospital.

Free freeway commuter buses, park-ride lots emphasized

Concluding three years of planning for an improved transit system for the St. Louis region, the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council last week adopted a plan for an improved all-bus system featuring extensive freeway service for weekday commuters.

Park-and-ride facilities along freeways, special bus lanes, and other forms of preferential treatment for buses are all part of the final 15-year transit plan, designed to attract commuters from cars to public transportation.

The final report adopted by the Gateway Board also points out financing problems currently being experienced by the Bi-State Development Agency which result in part from the way that local-level funds are allocated to the agency.

A continuing concern of the Gateway board also pointed out in the report is the "lack of local accountability" of members of the Bi-State Board, who are appointed by the governors of Illinois and Missouri, often without consultation with local governments which - in Missouri - provide the bulk of local operating funds.

In another transit-related item of business, the board forwarded to the Urban Mass Transportation Administration comments relating to regulations for accessibility to public transportation for the elderly and handicapped.

The board's comments were that the federal mandate is unrealistic and should be postponed until further technological and economic impact analyses are performed.

Bi-State is presently experiencing mechanical difficulties with its wheelchair lift buses, and manufacturers expect it will take four or six years to produce an acceptable vehicle, the Gateway board asserted.

Last month, the board took action for dealing with accessible public transportation when it passed the Elderly and Handicapped Transportation Plan and endorsed applications for financial assistance for 13 special transportation service providers.

The board last week passed a memorandum of agreement increasing coordination between Gateway and the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission.

Both agencies carry out planning functions, and their jurisdictions overlap in Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties.

The memorandum clarifies the roles and responsibilities of the two agencies and was drawn up to achieve more cost-effective planning services.

The Gateway board authorized work on a new phase of the St. Louis central business district bridge study.

Gatesways will evaluate alternative bridge networks, develop cost estimates and recommend a plan for implementation. At present, most traffic uses the frequently congested, toll-free Poplar

Ordinance to accept plat placed on first reading

An ordinance approving a new plat of a .88 of an acre tract at 2700 Pontoon Road was placed on first reading by the Granite City Council last week after the bill failed to receive sufficient votes to suspend the rules for final passage received a vote of eight aldermen in favor, two opposed and one abstaining. A minimum of ten votes is necessary to suspend the rules.

The tract of land is to be used for construction of a Pizza Hut restaurant.

Voting against the plat acceptance were Aldermen Gerald Parmentry of the Sixth Ward and Paul R. Bowler of the Seventh Ward. Abstaining was Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward.

The property already is zoned for commercial use and the measure involved only the acceptance of the property plat which was made necessary by a boundary line revision.

The ordinance will be presented again in Tuesday night's council session and will require only a majority vote to be passed.

In other action last week, the council accepted a bid by the Foley Janitor Supply Co. for purchase of a buffer at a cost of $557, the low bid, and to purchase fire hose from the Glazebrook Co. on a low bid of $2,720 for two different types of hose. One bid on radio equipment for the fire department was referred back to the Fire and Water Committee for a recommendation.

On a motion by Glen Sprankle, chairman of the Pollution Plant committee, the council accepted the single bid of B. E. Hohlt to provide a snow plow attachment at a price of $1,912, including installation.

Create Your Own Oktober Fest With Help From Schnucks

Beef Rouladen

4 servings

- 8 very thin slices top beef round
- 1 medium onion, diced
- ¼ pound bacon, diced
- 1 German pickle sliced into 8 spears
- ¼ cup flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper

- 2 teaspoons Frenzel German Mustard
- 2 tablespoons salad oil
- 1 cup hot water
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons cold water
- 1 cube beef bouillon

Pound beef slices with mallet until very thin. Divide onion, bacon, and pickle spears among the 8 beef slices, placing them across one end. Sprinkle beef slices with salt and pepper and spread mustard across each slice of beef. Roll up with filling in center; secure with toothpicks. Sprinkle all sides of rolls with flour. In large skillet brown in oil on all sides; add hot water. Cover and simmer until tender about 1-1½ hours, adding more water if needed. Remove rolls, remove toothpicks carefully and keep the beef rolls warm. Strain and measure 1 cup liquid from skillet; add beef bouillon cube. Stir cornstarch into cold water; add to measured meat juices. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Serve beef rolls and gravy with Red Cabbage and Spatzle. (See recipe below)

Red Cabbage

4 servings

- 1 (19.4 oz. jar) Frenzel Red Cabbage
- 1 cup water
- 1 small onion, diced

- 1 bay leaf
- 3 cloves
- 2 tablespoons applesauce or
- ½ cup finely diced apples

Place Red Cabbage and water in a 4½ quart saucepan and heat over a low heat. Add onion, bay leaf, cloves, and apples or applesauce to Red cabbage mixture. Mix well and simmer for 5-10 minutes until hot. Serve hot.
